Innovative Logic for Developing Businesses

Your business

may be a thriving new local enterprise in its first few years of trading. You're about to embark on the next phase of development, but need time to redefine where your company is going, and the routes that it will take to achieve success. You also need to maintain constant control over your cashflow and tax liability.

On the other hand, your business may be a well-established organisation staffed with dedicated and experienced professionals. You're concerned about staying on top of your financial health whilst focusing on new opportunities, expanding the company and improving your business efficiency.

Who are YOU?

Amersham Accountancy

not only provides a full range of accountancy services - we also advise on strategic business planning. Our service is backed by over 25 years' experience of providing financial and tax solutions to individuals and business owners.

Who are
WE?

We're also committed to developing a complete understanding of your business objectives. So when you're ready to make a strategic decision about your business, we will be on call to respond to your needs and work alongside you to develop the most effective business plan to get you where you want to be.

We believe that the best approach to business development is a disciplined, long-term strategy, based on a comprehensive understanding of your personal goals. Our aim is to help you achieve them.

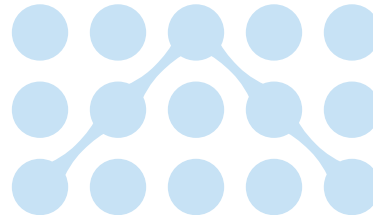

The real value of our service exists in the combined skills available from one experienced source to solve the most complex business challenges for our clients, to deliver better results and better business.

What can you do to reduce your tax liability?

- For limited companies who are facing a large corporation tax bill and personal tax liability from distributing the profits, we have a number of innovative strategies available to significantly reduce both liabilities.

- We also have solutions in place for contractors concerned by the implications of IR35.

For further information on effectively managing your tax liability, contact us on 01494 723 937.

In a fast-moving, complex, and highly competitive business environment, it's reassuring to know that you can depend on the support of professionals who take the time to understand your aims and objectives, who are quick to respond to your needs, and will deliver the highest level of individual client care.

At Amersham Accountancy, we work with a broad mix of major businesses and smaller enterprises across a multitude of professional disciplines, frequently as part of their management team. We're passionate about delivering not only the highest quality accounting services with solid tax and business development expertise, but also up-to-the-minute advice and proactive solutions to maintain stability and profitability for you and your business.

If you're preoccupied with financial administration when you should really be concentrating on vital strategic business decisions, it's not surprising that it can be a huge challenge to look beyond the numbers, think positively, and conjure up inspiring ideas for the future.

That's when you'll find us already prepared with the financial intelligence, expertise, objectivity and clear thinking to help you move your business forward.
